*In respect of other clients, documents as per the risk management policy of the stock broker need to be provided by the client from time to time.

- Copy of cancelled cheque leaf / pass book / bank statement specifying name of the constituent, MICR Code or / and IFSC Code of the bank should be submitted.
- Demat master or recent holding statement issued by DP bearing name of the client.

POLICIES & PROCEDURES

NOW, THEREFORE, IN CONSIDERATION OF THE MUTUAL UNDERSTANDING AS SET FORTH IN THIS AGREEMENT, THE PARTIES THERETO HAVE AGREED TO THE FOLLOWING TERMS AND CONDITIONS:

Clauses 1 to 10 are prescribed by SEBI and hence these are mandatory in nature,

1. The stockbroker declares that it has brought the contents of the risk disclosure document to the notice of client and made him/her/it aware of the significance of the said document. The client agrees that:

- He/she has read and understood the risks involved in trading on a stock exchange.
- He/she/it shall be wholly responsible for all his investment decisions and trades.
- The failure of the client to understand the risk involved shall not render a contract as void/violable and the client shall be and shall continue to be responsible for all the risks and consequences for entering into trade in segments into which the client chooses to trade.
- He/She/it has been disclosed/informed that the stock broker does trade in all segments of trading in the exchange as 'Proprietary Trade'.

2. Refusal of orders for penny stocks

"Penny Stocks" as generally understood are those scripts whose market price is less than its face value. As per company policy, the trades done in such stocks will be monitored. The client may be questioned about such trading by the stock broker. If found improper or manipulative or creating false or misleading appearance in the securities market, then the stock broker may refuse to allow the client from trading in such stocks.

Exchange also gives a list of illiquid securities on monthly basis, which are thinly traded shares of small companies and are infrequently traded. Such monthly lists are available with the dealers. If any client is found to be indulging in trading in such stocks in high volume (as a % to the total market volume), the stock broker may require the client to submit adequate clarification. As per its due diligence measures, if found necessary, the stock broker may disallow the client from trading in those scripts.

3. Setting up clients exposure limits

The client agrees to abide by the exposure limits, if any, set by the stock broker or by the exchange or clearing corporation or SEBI from time to time at the time of entering into the agreement or availability of funds, margins cash or shares provided by the client. The client exposure is set on the basis of the financial soundness and turnover of the client.

In Futures and Options segment, exposure limit of each client is set, based on Margin money given by the client, as per the exchange regulations and shall vary from time to time. Certain financial disclosures/information are additionally required from clients who opt for this segment.

4. Applicable Brokerage Rate

The brokerage rate applicable to the clients vary from client to client depending on the category of the client, like HNI, institutional, low, medium and high risk client. At the time of induction of a new client, the financial stability of the client is assessed/measured and the expected volume is also determined and the brokerage is fixed with the mutual consent of the client. However, the brokerage rate charged from the clients do not exceed the maximum brokerage specified by the Exchange. If any mismatch in brokerage rate is found with the agreed rate, the same can be brought to our notice.

The client agrees that the brokerage for penny stock is higher than the normal brokerage rates and is payable as per mutual understanding and may vary from client to client depending upon volumes and other parameters but would not exceed the maximum brokerage permissible.

5. Imposition of penalty/delayed payment charges

In case of delay of payment by the client to the stock broker on its due date, the stock broker may levy penalty in respect of such delayed payment though the same is not charged presently. The penalty charges on delayed payment on over due amount from the client would be @0.05% on daily basis and if we fail to make payment within one working day after the specific request of the client to make payment, penalty @0.03% would be charged on a daily basis.

6.The right to sell client's securities or close client position, without giving notice to the clients on account of non payment of client dues.

Without prejudice to the stock broker's other rights (including the right to refer a matter to arbitration), the stock broker shall be entitled to liquidate/close out all or any of the client's positions for non-payment of margins or other amounts, outstanding debts, etc. after giving telephonic reminder to the client and adjust the proceeds of such liquidation/closeout , if any, against the clients liabilities/obligations. Any and all the losses and financial charges on account of such liquidation/closing out shall be charged to and borne by the client.

Principally, company follows the practice of giving reasonable opportunity to the client to meet its obligations failing which the client position is squared off. However, the stock broker takes due consideration of long term association and the assurance of the client considering its ability to pay in due course.

7.Shortages in obligations arising out of internal netting of trades

The client agrees that in case of shortage in obligations arising out of internal netting of trades, short shares are brought in the market and are transferred to the client who had not received the shares in pay out. The account of the client who has failed to deliver shares shall be debited for such market purchase and shall be payable by him/her/it.

8.Condition under which a client may not be allowed to take further position or the broker may close the existing position of the client:

The client agrees that he/she may not be allowed to take further position under the following conditions:

- the client has a due/debit or a continuous debit balance- such a client is allowed to close his/her open position but is not allowed to take any new position
- the client has defaulted in meeting cash/securities obligation leading to compulsory close out of position by broker.
- the client may not be allowed to take position in a script where the broker's limit has come to an end or where the exchange is not allowing any further position in that script.

9.Temporarily suspending or closing a clients account at the clients request

- The account of a client can be suspended on receiving a written request from the client and will be reactivated on receiving a written request.
- In case a client gives a written request for account closure, then the account of the client shall be settled and the trading code shall be closed in the front and back office of the broker. However, if the client is through a registered sub broker, the sub broker shall also be informed and he/she/it has to give his consent for closing the same. In future if the client seeks to reopen his account with the stock broker, he/she/it shall be required to submit a new KYC form and execute necessary documents as if a new account is being opened.
- The client further agrees that due to non payment of the dues of the stock broker, or any order of SEBI/NSE against the client , or non submission of information/documents as are mandatory /relevant, the account may be suspended temporarily.

10.Deregistering a client

The client agrees that he/she/it will be deregistered if he/she/it is suspended from trading by any regulatory authority, or is unable to meet its dues to the stock broker, or if there is any breach in the terms and conditions of the agreement between the broker and the client. The trading account of the client will be closed after effecting full and final settlement of the accounts and securities of the client, if any.

11. Inactive Accounts

The account of a client who does not trade or remain inactive for four consecutive calendar quarters reckoned from the end of the calendar quarters in which the client has traded shall be declared "inactive account" and will be temporarily suspended. The broker reserves right to ask for any documents in support of current address, bank account, demat account, financial status etc before reactivating such accounts.

Client Acceptance: I/ We confirm having read and understood the same. Sign:_____
